

I think the TCPA is stay active. I work nights and I can't sleep due to phone solicitors waking me up all the time. If not then, then it is usually at the worst time possible!! If they are allowed to call us, we should be able to call these same people back at our convenience. So they should have to leave their home numbers too!!